Master’s Program in Dependency and Slavery Studies in Bonn, Germany

Germany: at the heart of Europe

Germany lies at the crossroads of many European countries connecting Eastern and Western Europe. It is the country of poets and thinkers. Research in Germany has a high reputation all over the world:

- Germany is among the top countries in terms of promotion of and investment in education and research.
- It hosts highly respected research institutions and centers for advanced studies.
- A degree from a German university is internationally highly esteemed.

The University of Bonn:

"We are a University of Excellence"

The University of Bonn was founded more than 200 years ago and enjoys the status of being one of the most prestigious universities in Germany and abroad.

The University of Bonn is characterized by:

- being one of the world’s leading research-based universities.
- its status as a University of Excellence with six clusters of excellence.
- "Beyond Slavery and Freedom" is one of these clusters of excellence and is hosted by the Bonn Center for Dependency and Slavery Studies.
- its international visibility due to eighty collaborations with renowned universities worldwide.
- offering a place of study for more than 38,000 students, who benefit not only from the University’s strong interdisciplinary research profile, but also from support in all matters.

Bonn: the place to be

Bonn is an international student city on the river Rhine, and home to the United Nations in Germany. Moreover, Bonn is:

- the birthplace of the composer Ludwig van Beethoven.
- host of important federal ministries and NGOs as well as many museums, diplomatic missions and the United Nations University.
- close to several hubs in central Europe.
- offering a variety of cultural events and entertainments such as carnival and musical festivals.
- host of a University that enjoys an outstanding reputation at national and international levels.

Get in touch

Bonn Center for Dependency and Slavery Studies (BCDSS)
University of Bonn
Sarah Dusend, Head of Research and Study
ma-program@dependency.uni-bonn.de
Nieburstrasse 5
D-53113 Bonn

Follow us on Facebook and Twitter and stay updated!
Join the Bonn Center for Dependency and Slavery Studies (BCDSS)

We offer a broad and in-depth Master’s program that is unique and innovative.

Our Master’s program in “Dependency and Slavery Studies” covers state-of-the-art slavery and dependency research. Due to its excellent local, regional, national, and international network, the BCDSS offers an ideal environment for intensive interdisciplinary and intercultural exchange. With our research we aim at overcoming the binary opposition of “slavery versus freedom” and propose instead “asymmetrical dependency” as a new key concept encompassing all forms of bondage across time and space.

Master’s Program

Be connected to cutting-edge research

Specialize in Dependency and Slavery Studies

Develop your individual research profile

Our Master’s program

Our Master’s program is a two-year, research-oriented degree program offering you a broad perspective on interdisciplinary research into slavery and other forms of strong asymmetrical dependencies through time and space.

Classes on case studies (4 & 7) and Compulsory Elective Modules provide the room to follow your own interests and to explore textual sources, material culture, and data. Special support is offered to improve your source language skills.

The Compulsory Elective Modules also offer the opportunity to do an internship in national or international institutions.

The fourth semester is dedicated to preparing and writing your Master’s thesis.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>First semester</th>
<th>Second semester</th>
<th>Third semester</th>
<th>Fourth semester</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Module 1 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 2 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 3 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Master Thesis (30 ECTS)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phenomena of Slavery and Other Forms of Strong Asymmetrical Dependency</td>
<td>Slavery and Other Forms of Strong Asymmetrical Dependency: Methodological Approaches</td>
<td>Slavery and Other Forms of Strong Asymmetrical Dependency: Theoretical Approaches</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Module 4 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 5 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 6 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 7 (10 ECTS)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dependency and Slavery: Case Studies I</td>
<td>Dependency and Slavery in Transcultural Comparison</td>
<td>Research Problems and Debates in Dependency and Slavery Studies Today</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Compulsory Elective Modules I (10 ECTS)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Module 8 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 9 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td>Module 10 (10 ECTS)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Compulsory Elective Modules II (10 ECTS)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

We are looking for cutting-edge research?

Admission requirements

A 3-year B.A. or equivalent degree acquired in Germany or abroad in Archaeologies, Asian or Islamic Art History, Comparative Religious Studies, Egyptology, English Studies, German Studies, History, History of the Islamicate World, History of Law, Japanese Studies, Korean Studies, Latin American Studies, Slavic Studies, Social Sciences, South East Asian Studies, Theologies, Tibetan Studies, or similar disciplines.

Language requirements

- C1 proficiency in English (documented by, e.g., a B.A. program taught entirely in English, minimum scores of TOEFL iBT 94/IELTS 7.0)
- German language proficiency is not required.
- Proficiency in source languages is recommended.

Costs

- “university fee” (~600 € p.a.)
- Living expenses

When and how to apply?

Application period:
May 4 – June 15, 2020

Apply online via our University of Bonn Online Application Portal for Graduate Programs.

Start

Every winter term.
The next start date is October 1, 2020.

Funding opportunities

For funding opportunities and further questions related to our Master’s program, please check our website.

Contact

Sarah Dusend, Head of Research and Study
ma-program@dependency.uni-bonn.de

Find out more